ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The Construction Claims and ADR Conference Marathon 2024 builds on the success of our groundbreaking 12-hour marathon in 2021, where we set a new record in the Malaysia Book of Records for the "Longest Non-Stop Virtual Construction & ADR Conference." This year, we're reviving the marathon experience with 8 panel discussions and exciting topics, providing participants with an unparalleled opportunity for in-depth exploration, insightful discussions, and extensive interaction.

Our Conference Marathon brings together a lineup of distinguished moderators and speakers who will share their expertise, experiences, and insights on navigating the evolving landscape of construction disputes. From case studies to best practices, participants will gain practical knowledge to enhance their management skills and contribute to the creation of well-designed dispute-resolution mechanisms.

Join us for a marathon experience that goes beyond traditional conference limits. Immerse yourself in a day-long exploration of construction claims and ADR, where every hour counts in building a resilient and conflict-resilient industry.

10:00AM > SESSION 1: THE CONCEPT OF PRACTICAL COMPLETION AND IMPACT OF NON-COMPLETION BASED ON VARIOUS STANDARD FORMS OF CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTS

Upon practical completion of works, the contractor will hand over the site to the employer. But how is "practical completion" or "completion" of works determined under various standard forms of building contracts like PAM, JKR, AIAC SFC or FIDIC? Join this panel discussion to gain insights from our panellists on the concept of practical completion and impact of non-completion.

11:30AM > SESSION 2: NAVIGATING THE COMPLEX WATERS IN LOSS AND EXPENSE CLAIM

A contractor's entitlement to loss and expense may arise in the event of delay or disruption of works caused by the employer. Such a claim may encompass prolongation costs, acceleration costs or loss of overheads and profits. Should a contractor prepare its loss and expense claim based on actual loss or would the contractor be entitled to claim for loss and expense based on recognised formulae? Under what circumstances might a contractor make its claim based on a "global claim"? Our panellists in this session will navigate us through the steps and key elements in preparing an effective loss and expense claim.
